Güde is a privately owned family company based in Plettenberg, right in the middle of Germany, producing spring washers for more than 70 years. Now the company is operating in its 3rd generation.

Güde products are competitively priced on an international level. Large or long running batch production and lean processes enable the company to be cost-efficient. Short delivery times makes them a favorite with the customers. Machinery and tools are self designed and constructed, so the company runs fast and flexible.

Güde manufactures billions of products every year, most of them are standard parts. With 10,000 sqm of built-up area and 5,000 constantly available storage spaces the company is accordingly well positioned.

Customer specific packing and labelling are further solutions made by Güde.
